

This is Dorothy and her little dog Toto. They lived in Kansas

One day a terrible tornado came.

The tornado took Dorothy's house.

And spun it around and around.

Dorothy's house landed far away in Munchkin land. It killed a wicked witch.

The Munchkins were very happy that the evil witch was dead. Dorothy only wanted to go home.

They gave Dorothy the witch's magic ruby slippers. They told her to follow the yellow brick road. She would find the Wizard of Oz and he could help her get home.

Dorothy and Toto followed the yellow brick road and met a scarecrow. He was sad because he had no brain.

Dorothy said "Come with us. The Wizard of Oz can give you a heart. He is the best wizard in the world." So, the scarecrow joined the two travelers.

Next, they met a tin man. He wanted a heart. Dorothy said "Come with us. The Wizard of Oz can give you a heart. He is the best wizard in the world." So, the tin man joined the three travelers.

Finally, they met a cowardly Lion. He wanted courage. Dorothy said "Come with us. The Wizard of Oz can give you courage. He is the best wizard in the world." So, the cowardly lion joined the four travelers.

On the way, They need to cross a river. The scarecrow had a good idea and said "A raft will help us cross."

They built a raft and crossed the river.

Next they came to a deep chasm.

The lion, although very scared, put the others on his back and jumped across the chasm. He was indeed very brave.

Later, Dorothy fainted. She was tired and hungry.

The tin man carried her and his tears woke up the girl. He was kind and concerned for her.

They walked very far and eventually arrived in Oz.

Soon they found the wizard. Each told the wizard their wish.

The wizard said "Scarecrow, you are already smart. It was your idea to build the raft to cross the river." The scarecrow felt smart now.

"Tin man, you have a heart. When Dorothy fainted you were kind and concerned. Your tears revived her". The tin man was happy. He did have a heart.

"And lion, you are very courageous. You jumped across the chasm even though you were scared." The lion felt brave now.

Dorothy was still sad. How could she get home? The wizard told the girl "Tap the heels of your ruby slippers three times and say "I want to go home".

Dorothy tapped her heels tree times and disappeared.

mmediately, she was back home and very happy to be with her Auntie Em and Uncle Henry.
